Bloodmobile is Today

Thursday, October 11th, the Bloodmobile will make a visit to Bridgewater State College. Bridgewater State College has already established itself as the highest blood donation center in Southeastern Massachusetts, and we need your help if we are to keep that reputation.

As an added incentive a twenty five dollar cash donation will be given to the class with the largest number of donors. So help to boost your class treasury and save a life at the same time.

Walk-in donors will, of course, be welcomed, as well as students and faculty who made appointments in advance at the Bloodmobile Registration Table across from the College Bookstore (October 3, 4, 5, 9, 10) or through the Office of Student Life.

Please remember, that if you or any member of your immediate family is ever in need of blood, the service will be provided, free of charge by the Red Cross through the Bridgewater State College Blood Bank! All that is required is that you notify the Office of Student Life which administers the Bridgewater State College Blood Bank Program.

The Bloodmobile Unit will be in the Student Union Ballroom on Thursday, October 11th, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. If you are in good health, weigh at least 110 pounds and are 17 years of age you are eligible to donate. Save a life and the Blood Bank Program.

electd to walk across the Boyden Hall front lawn from the Student Union to Burnell.

Vice President Deep believes that "the students feel that the quickest way to the building is that line." He said that it was unfortunate that there was no concrete walkway, but we can't put one in.

When the problem of students walking along the lawn came up last year the area was fenced off. V.P. Deep stated, "We don't want to fence off the area (again), it was unsightly last year." There is already a dirt path leading from Woodward Hall to the Student Union. Another path would further mar the Quadrangle, which is used for Commencement Exercises every year.

V.P. Deep remarked that the College Community Relations Council used to handle such problems as this. He said, "We don't have it now because it may be in violation of the faculty contract; previously, faculty, student leaders, and college administrators made up the committee."

Since classes will be held in Burnell until Boyden Hall is renovated, V.P. Deep asks us to "take 10 steps and use the established (concrete) pathway; be ecology minded." He asks for your cooperation!

Editorials

The Comment apologizes for allowing the phrase "invigorating rape" to appear in the article "A Quixotic Fantasy." The fact that this phrase remained in the article through a slip of memory and not with malicious intent is really no excuse. Every woman and every man on campus should have felt insulted when she or he read that phrase. To those who were insulted, we can only apologize. Those who were not insulted, who thought that "invigorating" was an appropriate or amusing term with which to describe a rape, read on.

Try talking to a woman who has been raped. We guarantee that "invigorating" will not be used to describe the experience. Try "humiliating." Try "degrading." Try "debasing" or "horrifying" or "terrifying." Try "I can't stand to have a man look at me on the street anymore." "Invigorating" is certainly not an apt synonym for any of those words or phrases. "Invigorating" would be appropriate in a description of a walk on a crisp autumn day, not of a terrifying experience.

Again, we apologize for this error.

Letters to the Editor

Invigorating??

To the Editor:

Does the writer of the advance pitch for Man of La Mancha get his or her jollies from thinking about an "invigorating rape scene," or is it a matter of not being able to use and understand a thesaurus or dictionary?

To some men rape is invigorating; to all women rape is despicable. Women have finally succeeded in convincing the populace that rape is violence and not sex. Violence is never invigorating to the victim.

Webster defines "invigorating" as bracing or stimulating; did the writer really mean this? If so, please see your psychiatrist. If not, please see your librarian at Maxwell Library for instruction in the use of Roget or Webster.

One last point--doesn't the Editor of the Comment have the final say in making sure that all articles contain appropriate language?

Police Duties

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to the Ensemble Theatre's article "A Quixotic Fantasy," describing its upcoming production of the musical Man of La Mancha. Please allow me to direct a few comments and questions to the spokesperson of the theatre.

First of all, I am struck by your illustrious description of the rape scene involving the character Aldonza. "Invigorating," dear spokesperson? Can you honestly conceive of a rape as invigorating? I frankly, cannot. Rape to me, is far not just looking around, not walking, just looking.

I don't mind standing around outside for the 30 minutes or so, I just question what is going to happen when the cold sets in?

I'm sure these men don't do it intentionally, but a habit is hard to break. So as winter comes upon us, will these men fulfill their duties?

I know what happens when I don't do my job correctly.

Sincerely,
Kevin Mulkern

Thanks to Customs

On behalf of the one hundred and fifteen students, faculty, staff and neighbors here at the college, I would like to express our gratitude and appreciation to Mr. Ed Gorman and the Custom Food Management Service for their excellent and professional service he provided for us as we travelled into Boston to see Pope John Paul II.

I am particularly grateful for the coffee and doughnuts he provided here at the Center and the opening of the cafeteria an hour early so that the students could make sandwiches.

Gratfully,
Fr. Joe McNamara O.M.I.

Homecoming Queen Contest

Dear Students,

Again, it is nearly November and with November come the annual Homecoming Festivities at Bridgewater State College. The Brotherhood of Alpha Upsilon is again proud to announce that it will be the organization in charge and sponsor of The Homecoming Queen Selection for 1979. It is up to the students to make this event work. You, the students have a direct voice in the selection when you vote for the candidate of your choice in late October. Now is the time for a club or organization, on campus or off, to nominate a BSC student as a candidate for the title. These nomination papers must include the name and address of the club or organization, the name and address of the nominee and a very brief personal history of the nominee. The Brotherhood will be accepting these nomination papers at the Alpha House (25 Park Terrace) until Monday, October 15 at which time the nominations will be closed. The Brotherhood is happy to carry out this responsibility and to make it work we are asking for as many candidates as possible to allow for a much diversified and interesting group of participants. So, please, put in your papers and lets help make this important activity of the Homecoming Celebration as exciting, and competitive as possible.

Thank you
Ron Murphy
President
Brotherhood of Alpha Upsilon

Language GER

Dear Students,

At this time there is pending before the contract committees of this college a plan to create a general education requirement (GER) in the foreign languages. If approved this would mean that all students enrolled in degree programs would be required to complete and pass a foreign language to what would probably be the intermediate level.

The school's policy as it stands now states that each department shall decide independently whether or not it will require the foreign language in order to earn it's respective degree (i.e.: Psychology does require an intermediate proficiency whereas Art does not).

As of 9/25/79 the plan had not been formally submitted to College Curriculum Committee, according to an administrative spokesman. It has and is being discussed.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION MINORITY GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS FOR 1980-1981

WASHINGTON, D.C. —The National Research Council will again advise the National Science Foundation in the selection of candidates for the Foundation's program of Minority Graduate Fellowships. Panels of eminent scientists and engineers appointed by the National Research Council will evaluate qualifications of applicants. Final selection of Fellows will be made by the Foundation, with awards to be announced in March 1980.

The NSF Minority Graduate Fellowship Program is open only to persons who are citizens or nationals of the United States as of the time of application, and who are members of an ethnic minority group underrepresented in the advanced levels of the Nation's science talent pool--i.e., American Indian, Alaskan Native (Eskimo or Aleut), Black, Mexican American/Chicano, or Puerto Rican.

Eligibility is limited to those individuals who, as of the time of application, have not completed postbaccalaureate study in excess of 30 semester hours or 45 quarter hours, or equivalent, in any field of science, engineering, social science, or mathematics. Subject to the availability of funds, new fellowships awarded in the spring of 1980 will be for periods of three years, the second and third years contingent on certification to the Foundation by the fellowship institution of the student's satisfactory progress toward an advanced degree in science.

These fellowships will be awarded for study or work leading to master's or doctoral degrees in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological, engineering, and social sciences, and in the history and philosophy of science. Awards will not be made in clinical, law, education, or business fields, in history of social work, for work leading to medical, dental, or public health degrees, or for study in joint science-professional degree programs. Applicants will be judged on the basis of ability. The annual stipend for Minority Graduate Fellows will be $4,320 for a twelve-month tenure with no dependency allowances.

Applicants will be required to take the Graduate Record Examinations designed to test aptitude and scientific achievement. The examinations, administered by the Educational Testing Service, will be given on December 8, 1979 at designated centers throughout the United States and in certain foreign countries.

A group of concerned students have already met and discussed, at an October 3, 1979 meeting, some possible actions in opposition to the proposal. They are as follows: A peaceful student demonstration where, in order to insure its effectiveness, a large student turnout would be necessary; petitions that are presently being circulated; and publicity through various medias.

OPINION

"Vote or Die"

by Jeff Feingold

Recently I went on a college tour on Mars. I was greeted at the airport by the Administer of Education, a thin, green-skinned man in a Brooks Brothers suit with a button on the lapel that said "Vote or Die."

"That's a very funny button," I said.

"It's no joke," he said, "any student who doesn't vote is put in a freshman English class. Death is slow and painful."

"You take voting seriously."

"We have to," he said. "We've got a lot of problems. For instance, 98 percent of the students can't read."

"What about the other two percent?"

"They're legally dead."

He then took me on a tour of Martian State College. The dorms leaked and some had no hot water, there weren't enough campus police, there were enough course requirements to scare off Socrates, and students had no say in anything at all.

"You've certainly got a lot of problems here," I said.

"That's why we make everyone vote."

"I wonder if we could make people vote on Earth?"

"Sure you can. Just threaten them with freshman English. Do you know there are 29 ways of using a comma?"

"It's not a bad idea. We can't seem to get our students to vote. They think student government is a joke."

"A comma can be used between items in a series; a comma can be used in a compound sentence; a comma can be used--"

"Look," I said, "I don't think it will work. Freshman English just doesn't kill our students. And anyway, we certainly don't have any of the problems you people have up here."

"A comma can be used to set off appositives; a comma can be used to set off nonrestrictive modifiers; a comma can be used--"

EXPANDED POLYSTYRENE INDUSTRY SCHOLARSHIP

The Expanded Polystyrene Division of The Society of the Plastics Industry has just rung the opening bell in its Third Annual Scholarship Award Competition. University students have the opportunity to win up to $1,000 for innovative and practical uses of the polystyrene foam material. Previous winners have come from Pennsylvania State, Bridgeport University, M.I.T. and Michigan State. Imagination and skillful interpretation of an idea brought cash awards to students in schools of Architecture, Engineering, Industrial Design and Business Administration. The material is most familiar as the white foam molded package that locks delicate merchandise into protected space, or as the foam cup that keeps drinks hot or cold. It lends itself to countless other uses, and the competition calls on all students' creative abilities to initiate new concepts. Preliminary entries are judged on the basis of freshness and feasibility and students are advised to continue with worthwhile projects. Entry blanks are now available in the Dean's office or by request to The Society of the Plastics Industry, 3150 Des Plaines Avenue, Des Plaines, IL 60018. Final judging will be during the Expanded Polystyrene Division's Annual Meeting in March.

Homecoming Preview

by Nancy Paglione

Traditionally, "Homecoming" at Bridgewater has always meant a time for the alumni-a time for happy reunions with old friends and for a pleasant nostalgic trip to yesteryear.

In keeping with the custom, this year's Homecoming November 1-3, 1979, under the directorship of the Student Government Association's Second Vice-President, Liz Jones, will attempt to bring back some of Bridgewater's finest and provide them with a good time. Hence this year's Homecoming theme: "Let the Good Times Roll!"

• The Good Times however will not be limited only to those who have graduated. Hopefully, this year we'll have something for everyone regardless of their age," said coordinator, Jones when asked about Homecoming. "I'd like to see as many people as possible participate in this year's events", she added.

This "something for everyone" philosophy is reflected in this year's scheduling of Homecoming events. On Thursday evening, Nov. 1, 1979 the Student Union Program Committee will usher in the Good Times with a Homecoming concert featuring musical performer, Maynard Ferguson. Ferguson's accomplishments to date include the theme from the movie, Rocky and the theme from the television serial, Battlestar Galactica. Also on Thursday night, the Class of 1980 makes their Homecoming debut by holding a kick-off party at the Canoe Club in East Bridgewater.

Then on Friday, November 2, the SGA will sponsor a dance/concert in the S.U. Ballroom which will be open to all age groups. A bonfire and a "get psyched" rally for Saturday, Nov. 3rd's athletic contests against Curry College is also slated for Friday eve.

Saturday's list of events begins with a soccer game at 10 a.m. Also scheduled for the morning is a brunch at the Catholic Center. Then at 12:15 p.m., a parade featuring a marching band together with a series of floats constructed by members of various campus clubs and organizations will embark from the quadrangle in front of Boyden Hall. The parade will proceed down Summer St. to the football field. Outside the field's entrance gates, prior to the 1:30 p.m. kickoff, there will be tailgating.

Half time of the football game not only will include float judging and a marching band performance but will also give the Alpha Fraternity an opportunity to crown this year's Homecoming Queen.

Finally, Homecoming will wind up on Saturday evening with four events scheduled.

Two of these events will include alcohol and will be open only to those twenty and older. The Country-western band, "Cabin Fever" will be performing in the Rat while at the same time the now famous annual Irish Nite featuring an Irish band will be held in Tilly.

The other two Saturday pm. events will be non-alcoholic; a Monte-Carlo Dance/Casino in the Commuter Cafeteria and a Nite-Club act in the ballroom.

With all these things planned, this year's Homecoming should be a memorable one. Homecoming ticket information as well as other additional Homecoming news will appear in subsequent Comment issues. So be sure to keep a watchful eye out for details and you won't have to miss what just may be one of the best Homecoming's ever!

Counseling Center:

"Come Talk to Us"

by Lori Parker

Bridgewater State College has many facilities and centers that are available to students, but sometimes students are not aware of their existence. Anyone out there who doesn't know about the Counseling Center, should. Dr. Dan Diethelm, Dr. Bill Owens, and Dr. Christine Ward staff the Counseling Center, which is newly located on the top floor of the Student Union, near the game room. The Counseling Center can provide help with any personal or social problem. According to Dan Diethelm and Bill Owens, it can also give you some real friends to talk to.

"It doesn't have to be a real problem for someone to come and talk to us", said Dr. Diethelm. Students can come to the Counseling Center if they just want to talk something over. "Coming to talk to us is a positive thing," he stressed. The Counseling Center is organized to give students someone to talk to if something is troubling them, if a problem is "making things rough in general" or if they just want to discuss a new direction or attitude they'd like to take. The staff of Bridgewater State's Counseling Center can provide personal or group counseling, workshops consultation, and help in finding other outside agencies to help if that is necessary. But mainly, Doctors Diethelm, Owens, and Ward can talk over difficulties that really (are things everybody goes through", Diethelm said.

Dr. Bill Owens, whose name may not be familiar to upperclassmen who have been to Center before, just started there this semester. A very friendly, open man, he stressed that "it is a sign of strength to come to the center with anything that is bothering you". When asked what he'd like to say to our readers, he said that he was in a counseling group previously and it helped him and he liked it very much. Dr. Christine Ward, who is not permanently at the Center, but visits weekly, can provide you with someone else to talk to, and also a woman's point of view.

If you'd like to contact someone at the Counseling Center, you can just drop by, between 8:30 and 4:30, or even better, make an appointment. That can be done at the Student Life Office or by calling 697-8321, extension 226. After hours emergency help can be found by calling extension or the BSC Infirmary. Remember, anything that you say will be kept completely confidential. So, just remember that the Counseling Center is there. The people there are great people to talk to if you ever need them.

Faith, Science and The Future

On Tuesday, October 9, at 11 a.m. Bishop Paulus Gregorius of Delhi, India, a prominent theologian and officer of the World Council of Churches, gave a talk on Faith, Science and the Future in the Library Lecture Hall.

Metropolitan Gregorius first summarized reports from conferences held at MIT and in Vienna this past summer on issues dealing with scientific research, technology and ethics. Some facts: the worldwide population of scientists and engineers is estimated to be 2.8 million, 94% of whom are in the "rich countries." The largest segment of the $102 billion annual global research fund goes to military and "non-essential" good productivity. Whenever questions of ethics are raised in different societies, it becomes difficult or impossible to get answers since decisions are often made in boardrooms of powerful transnational corporations where success is measured by profit margins.

The Bishop recounted the nature of a confrontation between protestors and scientists held in Sweden this summer on the issue of nuclear reactor safety. While scientists overwhelmed the youthful demonstrators with safety statistics, it soon became apparent that nuclear reactor was only a symbol of the uncertainties resulting from rapid industrial, urban and often inhuman growth which profoundly affected the lives of European youth. The list of issues involving ethics includes genetic engineerings, biochemical warfare, and possible government dictums on amniocentesis test results, which ultimately may lead to abortions.

At the Vienna conference, sponsored by the UN, it was reported that the ethical issues raised by technology and the limitations of science are best understood by English-speaking scholars and least appreciated by Marxist-Socialists theoreticians, who still adhere to the hope that scientific materialism should be of utmost concern to a nation.

Historically, religion and philosophy dominated science during its infancy but the twentieth century brought about a reversal in their relationship with the result that theologians and philosophers are not ready to respond to urgent requests by scientists on ethical issues. While the Bishop stressed that none of us should take a position of anti-science, all of us should be cognizant and assertive of our rights to have safer, fuller, multidimensional lives.

ENSEMBLE THEATRE:

Impossible Dreams

In just two weeks, the Student Union Auditorium will be filled with historical beauty during the Ensemble Theatre's production of Man Of La Mancha.

Unlike many musicals where a storyline is constructed around an assortment of songs, Man of La Mancha has a unique background all its own. The play is based on the book, Don Quixote, written by Miguel de Cervantes in the 17th century. It is a gentle sensitive account of the adventures of a man who chose to live much of his life in his imagination, rather than reality. It is guessed by some that the true spirit of Don Quixote lived in Cervantes himself.

So you are not quite sure who Cervantes was? He was, at that time, one of the world's most obscure and famous writers. He was, however, a failure, spending his life in poverty and degradation, working as a soldier, playwright, poet and tax collector.

In his late fifties, while in jail, he wrote Don Quixote which brought him enormous fame but little profit. He died in 1616, within 10 days of the death of William Shakespeare. Man of La Mancha, according to its author Dale Wasserman, is a tribute to the tough and tender spirit of Cervantes.

Tickets for Man Of La Mancha will be available for sale in front of the Student Union Bookstore starting Tuesday, October 16. It is not an event to be missed.

Rock At 26

by Joe McDonald

WHAT A LONG STRANGE TRIP

Now is the time to catch up on the events that have occurred between late March and now.

March 12, three weeks after going on strike, WBCN, Boston's progressive FM rock station went back on the air. The strike began February 16, when Michael A. Weiner, president of Hemisphere Broadcasting, dismissed 19 staff members. Wiener agreed to rehire all staffers. Not long after, Oedipus and Duane Glasscock started the "Megathon" that represented one of the best promotional stunts of this and/or any year.

With tickets ranging between $10 and $350, the New Barbarians served Keith Richards' Toronto sentence on April 22, by performing at the Oshawa Civic Auditorium. The band, consisting of Richards, Ron Wood and others (including Mick Jagger on a few numbers), performed in a benefit concert for the blind. The concert was part of Richards' sentence for a 1977 heroin conviction there.

Nick Lowe and Dave Edmunds joined Elvis Costello onstage during his concert at Brown University. The Costello tour was to promote Armed Forces while Lowe performed songs from his new album, Labor Of Lust. Lowe and Edmunds began a tour together on June 9 with Edmunds' band, Rockpile. Soon after the tour concluded, Lowe married Carlene Carter on August 18 in Los Angeles. Carter's mother and stepfather are June Carter and Johnny Cash, which brings about the question: when they have a child, will she/he play punk rock or country and western.

Jefferson Starship held a free concert in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park during May. This was the band's first concert appearance since the departure of Marty Balin, Grace Slick, and drummer, John Barbata. They were replaced by ex-Elvin Bishop vocalist, Mickey Thomas, and ex-Journey drummer, Aynsley "The Hawk" Dunbar.

According to the results of a recent toxicology exam conducted by the Arlington County medical examiner, Little Feat leader, Lowell George, died of an accidental drug overdose. Only his family has been told the name of the drug that killed him. George collapsed June 29, and was pronounced dead on arrival at Arlington Hospital.

Warner Brother's Records has recently recalled its entire shipment of the single "Tusk" by Fleetwood Mac because of bad pressings. Apparently, the sound quality is somewhat scratchy. The album of the same name, which has taken nearly nine months to produce, will be released by October 12.

Rolling Stone Magazine reports that Eagles guitarist, Joe Walsh, has announced his candidacy for (are you ready for this?) president of the United States. Running on a platform of "Free gas for everybody", his campaign manager says, "Joe Walsh has never lied to the American public". Speaking of Rolling Stone, an new magazine is due out from the company called, "College Papers". The first issue features articles on William Burroughs, Bruce Springsteen, Gilda Radner, fiction by Philip K. Dick, and a forum where students can get their best works published. The magazine is, according to the publishers, exclusively for college students (I've heard that one before).

Speaking of sex (actually I wasn't, but what the heck), Capitol Records has released a single entitled, "Since You've Been Gone" by Cherie and Marie Currie. Cherie is an ex-Runaway, and rumor has it that an album by her is available as an import from overseas. If that is true, I'm sure the price will be high (if Kim Fowley has any say in it!).

Movie Reviews

Python Does It Again

by Gil Bliss

Reviewing this film in the wake of the Popes' visit is probably in poor taste, but I promise to downplay the effect.

Regardless of what you've heard, Monty Python's "Life of Brian" is not sacrilegious or blasphemous. Upon exiting the theatre, fresh from my viewing of the latest feature length film from the British comedy troupe, I was accosted by several sign-wielding types, each one proclaiming that I had been party to a sacrilegious act. My only response to this was to inquire as to whether they had seen the film. Answering negatively, they didn't feel as this had any bearing on the issue.

Thus, the Chicken Little syndrome hits the movie industry. One has merely to view the ninety-five minute bit of insanity, and also be armed with a minimum of intelligence to see the film properly.

The plot is simply about a man growing up in the time of Christ, in the same place, who is involved in a case of mistaken identity from which he cannot escape. This framework provides the group with an opportunity to take a shot at such modern day topics as imperialism, wild-eyed guerilla groups, and the sheep-like tendencies of the common man. In the last sentence, substitute the words Romans, Judean Peoples' Front, and Brian's followers, and you will know what I mean.

Christ is indeed portrayed in this film, but only in fleeting instances, none of which do anything to change any Biblical image. Another portion of the film that has drawn criticism is when Brian and 139 other unfortunates are crucified at the end of the film in celebration on a Roman holiday. People immediately draw direct comparison between this and the death of Christ, forgetting completely that this was a popular form of execution long before 33 AD.

Turning from the religious criticism, we take a look at the movie itself. Monty Python again has each member play four or five roles each, yet each part is treated individually with no confusion on the part of the audience. Although there seems to be fewer immediate jokes than in their epic, "Holy Grail", Python gets you with the longterm effect. That of course, is relative, "Holy Grail" didn't let you have a chance to recover, one got worried about becoming ill with laughing. "Life Of Brian" makes you marvel at their ingenuity and painstaking detail in re-creating the atmosphere of the ancient mid-east, as well as their regular absurdist outlook on life. Every movie they make demonstrates a minimum level of quality that you come to expect, in the field of comedy, but each one has shown increasing improvement in the art of film-making. Director Terry Jones employed the usual assortment of Python techniques (liberal use of animation, etc.) but the difference in this effort is the inventive editing. George Harrison sunk 6 million dollars into this project, and he spent his money wisely.

So, You Think You're Smart?

The College Bowl is a question and answer game usually played between two teams made up of four players each.

These are the rules for team and individual eligibility. If there are any questions not covered in this article, contact College Bowl headquarters in New York, or your ACU-I College Bowl Regional Coordinator.

— Every member of the varsity must have appeared in at least one intramural game and have his name registered on the official game report form.

— No more than two graduate students can be part of the squad.

— For any intercollegiate match or tournament, five members of the squad are eligible (four regulars plus an alternate).

— All members of the varsity must be full-time students - undergrads carrying at least 12 credits, graduates, 9 credits.

— Each squad member must be registered in school for the semester during which any match or tournament is held in order to be eligible to play.

— Once the team is set, a captain must be designated to act as the official spokesman. In the event of multiple or conflicting answers to a Bonus question, the captain will give the teams official answer.

We request the Faculty and Administration inquire about the following positions involved with producing the College Bowl.

THE MODERATOR - The moderator enforces all the rules of the game in a fair and judicious manner.

His main function is to ask questions and, as part of that task, to decide when a player or team is taking too long to answer. No more than 3 seconds should be allowed to respond to a Toss-Up, 5 seconds to a Bonus. If a player or team takes too long to answer, the moderator must call time.

Any answers given after the moderator calls time do not count.

So that he can work comfortably, the moderator should have two separate stacks for Toss-Ups and Bonuses on his podium.

To further insure the smoothness of the tempo of the game, the moderator is provided with a standardized script, carefully

Webber's 10, really an 11, has all the depth of a Harlequin romance.

10 wants to be social commentary and escapist fare, which is like Willie Whistle reading William Shakespeare. Edwards' script seems like a Ritz Brothers/Arthur Miller collaboration. Samantha Taylor, Webber's lover, tries to raise his conscientiousness, which makes for stilted dialogue. A discussion of the connotations of the word "broac" is unacceptably artificial. Attempting to balance the "heavy" issues examined, the film abounds with the absurdities common to Blake Edwards movies. For instance, Dudley Moore's slapstick struggles to climb a hill are unbelievable, yet hilarious.

Julie Andrews, Moore's co-star, lives in a Sound of Music time warp. Knowing the exposure of even a freckle would cause a myriad of coronaries, Andrews keeps her descent into sleazy confined to cursing. Her Samantha Taylor is slinky and sophisticated, yet she always manages to stay on the periphery of sexual explicitness. Taylor watches an orgy through a telescope and draws the drapes when making love. The Maria Von Trapp image survives.

The picture belongs to Dudley Moore, the English Paul Lynde. Moore is a witty, horny little sprite. A romantic in a realistic society, Moore's character discovers that sexual and spiritual fulfillment are not alike. Managing to make clownish George Webber a sympathetic, sensitive man, Dudley Moore gives a skilled performance.

explaining all procedures. He should be thoroughly familiar with it.

THE JUDGE - From his position, the judge can see and hear all the action of the game - moderator, players, announcer, visual props, scoreboard, and clock.

The judge is ready to assist the moderator in ruling any game procedures.

The judge is thoroughly familiar with the questions and answers and ready to rule, upon request, on the acceptability of an answer.

THE ANNOUNCER - From his position, the announcer can see all the players and their desk fronts. On Toss-Ups, his voice will identify the player who has signaled and is eligible to respond.

SCOREKEEPER/TIMER - As timer, his responsibility is to blow the whistle signaling the start and end of both halves of the game, and to monitor the accuracy of the official clock.

As scorekeeper, he keeps the official team scores throughout the game, making sure that they are accurately transferred to the scoreboard.

The team that wins the final contest will then go to the New England Regional. If successful there, they will be on to the Nationals and then into international competition.

Please apply promptly, October 12 is the deadline.

Airplay

by Leo Wiltshire

Well folks, here we are with another edition of 'airplay', the article that puts you inside WBIM 91.5 FM.

The Feature Album plays have been getting underway at WBIM. This week we'll be playing 'Black Sabbath' by Black Sabbath. It starts at 10:00 p.m. this weekend on 'Satyr Day-Nite Hysteria'. (8p.m.-midnight).

Wondering where and when the next KISS concert will be? No? Well anyway, WBIM presents 'The Concert Report'. Four times a day the BIM jocks run down our list of who's playing in the Boston area. Tune in at 12:20, 3:20, 7:20, and 11:20 every day for 'The Concert Report'.

October's 'Fave Song of the Month' is 'Young Lust' by Ellen Foley on her debut solo album 'Nightout'. Ellen sang with mighty Meatloaf on 'Paradise by The Dashboard Light', and her album is quite impressive. You can hear cuts from it on WBIM by calling in on our request line, 697-8321, ext. 487.

This week starts the D.J. profiles and our featured jock this week is Andrea Richard. Andrea was born on Nov. 3, 1955 in Palo Alto, Calif.. She claims to have three zodiac signs; Scorpio, Libra, and Gemini, the latter, she says, accounts for her schizophrenia. Andrea has been a D.J. for three years. She was licensed in '76 and first worked for WKKL in West Barnstable. Her favorite Beatle is Paul McCartney and she has no favorite KISS member. Her guru is Loudon Wainwright III. Andrea's favorite time is sunset and her philosophy is to "Trust in God, for she will provide." And that's the scoop on Andriae Ritchidss. You can hear her on 91.5 FM on Sunday evenings from 5 to 9 p.m.. Next week; Gene Manning.

And that's all for this week. Keep it tuned to 91.5 FM, WBIM.

SGA Court:

A Lot of Responsibility

By Pat Duddy

The new SGA court had an informal meeting on Thursday, the 27th of September. What is unique about it is that everyone on it is new.

Members of the court are Robert Cote, Maureen Frasca, William MacKinnon, John O'Day, Sandra Pallaria, and Karen Peterson.

The court has the power to review decisions made by the student senate and call them unconstitutional if they go against the SGA court's Constitution or that of the Commonwealth.

The Student Court reviews elections of any student organization on campus to see if they follow their own laws. If they don't—for example holding elections in the gymnasium, between classes, the results are declared invalid. Every club has to submit a Constitution to the attorney general if it is funded by the SGA.

The most important function of the Student Court is the actual disciplining of students. "We have the power to recommend disciplinary actions against any student who has violated college policy on any part of the campus except in the S.U. or the dorms," said Bob Cote.

The Court, which meets every Thursday at 6:00 in the Student Union, has to follow certain procedures during formal trials. Accepted court procedures are: 1. Only that person recognized to speak will be allowed to do so. 2. The question periods are for the express use of the Justices. 3. During the time of statement witnesses may be called. A time will be reserved at the termination of this statement when the representatives will be allowed to cross examine the witness. 4. Material not related to this hearing will be deemed out of order by the Chief Justice. 5. Only the Attorney General defendant, or representative and justices will be allowed under most circumstances. It shall be the duty of the Chief Justice to render the decision on others speaking.

As of Thursday, September 27, Karen Peterson was unofficial Chief Justice.

It was pointed out during the meeting that, at certain times in the past there has been no student Court. During this time and others there were no records left to detail how students conducted their affairs. Because of these gaps, the Constitution of the Student Judiciary now requires that hearing be recorded.

Several complaints have already come to the attention of the student Court. One involves a girl who was refused when she asked the Bookstore if she could return her book. The Bookstore allegedly said no, because she had written her name in it. The girl claimed that they had given her the wrong book in the first place. It is alleged that the Bookstore advised her to sell the $16.95 book as a used book. Instead, she has decided to fight it out. Perhaps via the Better Business

Karen Peterson, Chief Justice of the Student Court.

Bureau.

Other complaints involved Woodward Hall. It seems that they have no hot water and no electricity in the mornings. Someone also claims to have had a cockroach crawl over her when she was sitting on the floor in Wood.

If anyone has any questions about the Student Court, its rules and regulations, or anything else, leave them in Jack Duncan's mailbox, located in the SGA office in the Student Union.

SENIORS

Due to the problems caused by our predecessors, we have had a very difficult time in securing halls in which to hold our COUNTDOWN PARTIES. Square Acres, for example, has just agreed to take us back on a TRIAL BASIS. If any damage is done, the number of COUNTDOWN PARTIES will be greatly reduced—no one will rent us a hall. So PLEASE, for everyone's benefit, please be on your best behavior at all COUNTDOWN PARTIES—or we won't be having many this year. This notice is also for underclassmen—it won't be any easier for you next year.

Bad News for Bear Fans

The BSC football team, currently sporting an 0-2-1 record, looks for its first victory this Saturday when they travel to Western Connecticut. The Bears will be hoping to rack up some points, having only scored 21 points in their first three games.

The Bears lost their home opener to Maine Maritime before a Parents Day Crowd at Swenson Field. Despite a superb defensive effort, inconsistency on offense and costly penalties plagued the Bears throughout this contest. A sign of events for this day was a Bridgewater fumble, which Maritime recovered at the twenty. A pass interference call gave Maine a first down at the thirteen. Two plays later, Maine's Rich Rottier scored on a three-yard run, and the conversion made the score 7-0.

Later in the quarter Bridgewater got a break when Defensive Tackle Joe Vierra recovered a fumble at the Maine twenty-eight. Bob Lee ran left for a sizable 14 yards gain. But Maritime held, and along with a delay of game penalty, Bridgewater was forced to kick a field goal, and Dave Hickey connected from 30 yards out for what would be the Bears only points for the day.

The score remained 7-3 until late in the game. When the Bears, led by Freshman Q.B. Mark MacIsaac and the fine running of Lee & Al Colarusso, began marching into Maine territory. MacIsaac connected to end Vince Harte at the twenty-two yard line. With just seconds remaining, disaster struck as Maine's Don Boucher stepped in front of a Bridgewater pass and unpolitely ran 90 yards for the touchdown, ending the Bears chances, as the final score went to Maine Maritime, 13-3. Despite the defeat the defensive unit deserves applause, as they kept Maine pinned in their own territory for most of the game. Linebacker Dave White was super as he was all over the field. Tackle Bob Colangeli also turned in a solid performance as the big Sophomore made several tackles in Maritime backfield. Punter Dave Hickey averaged over 38 yards a kick, including a nice "coffin corner" job which went out of bounds on the two yard line.

In their most recent game the Bears traveled to New Haven and played well as they held undefeated New Haven to a 6-6 tie. Once again another outstanding job by the defense was the key, as U.N.H. had averaged over 26 points per game.

The Bears got on the board first. Quarterback Mark MacIsaac connected on a bomb to receiver Jeff Finan, good for 58 yards and a touchdown. The point after went wide, and the Bears led 6-0 at 6:39 of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, New Haven marched 76 yards for the tying score. However, New Haven's kick also went wide and the score remained 6-6.

The second half saw both teams involved in a defensive struggle. Led by Greg Kasabian, the Bears defense shut off New Haven the rest of the way. New Haven had a chance, when, with four seconds remaining, they missed a field goal attempt and the game ended in a 6-6 tie. Al Colarusso the Bears offense with 65 yards rushing in 15 carries. The Bears next home game will be on October 20 against Plymouth St. the current standings in the new England Conference go like this: New Haven 3-0-1, Nichols, 3-1, Boston State, 2-1, Framingham, Plymouth State, and Maine Maritime all at 2-2, Western Connecticut 1-2, Mass. Maritime 1-2, Curry 1-3, and Bridgewater 0-2-1.

Sports Chat By Tony Costello

Not to be overlooked this fall is the excellent performance of the Bridgewater State Cross-Country squad. Under the direction of Head Coach John Laverty, the Running Bears are off to a fine start, currently sporting a 5-1 record. The lone defeat was to Southeastern Mass. University, which, Coach Laverty stated, "Is probably one of the best teams in the country." The Bears most recent victory in a Quadrangular meet at Worcester last Saturday, was particularly sweet for Laverty. "They (Assumption) had four runners who had run 4:25 miles or better. It was their homecoming, and on their course. But the team was really up for this meet and ran a tough race." Leading BSC in this meet was first-place winner Ed McGill, while Tom Cash ran a close third to ice the victory. "Ed ran a great race," said Laverty. The win over Assumption was also Coach Laverty's 100th win as a coach. Since coming to Bridgewater last fall, Laverty's teams have compiled a 22-4 record, easily the best on campus.

As for the future, Mr. Laverty is very optimistic. Out of his top seven runners, six are freshmen, and the other a sophomore....Coming up on the Bears schedule is a home meet October 23rd against Eastern Nazarene and Mass. Maritime. This coming Saturday, the team will compete with 30 other schools in the Codfish Trophy Race at Franklin Park. "Here I believe we can place in the top seven," Coach Laverty predicted. On November 10, the Bears hope to qualify for the NCAA regionals. Mr. Laverty feels that the team has what it takes to qualify in the top five.

Well, it's history now folks. This year's bragging rights belong to the students as they defeated the Faculty Softball team, by the score of 18-12 last Friday.

The Student Body team coached by Jim "Zimmer" Calnan, jumped out to an early 4-0 lead, on the efforts of Ned Cotter who hit a 3 run homer in the first inning and Joe McD's RBI single in the 2nd inning. The game then became a pitchers duel between Paul Larson, who replaced starting pitcher Stretch Banach who was replaced by Coach Calnan, and Dr. Levin, as the Faculty suddenly exploded for 10 big runs in the fifth. Key hits in this inning belonged to Dr. Johnson, Dr. Kryzanek, and Dr. Turner. The Faculty squad led by Coach Silvia, enjoyed an 11-6 lead going into the seventh when disaster struck. The Student team rallied back for seven big runs, behind the timely hitting Russ Carr, Jack Duncan, and Bill Wheaton, who hit homeruns, as did Larson. This put the game out of reach, but the Faculty did not die easily. They threatened in the ninth, but a bullet throw by Robin Ferrini, in right field, to pitcher Larson covering home plate killed the threat....MVP Awards go to Dr. T. Turner of the Faculty, as he made a sensational over the shoulder catch, a la Willie Mays off Vic Wertz, in left field to stop a student scoring threat. John Foisy was the student MVP as he was super in the field and had a single, double and triple at the plate.

Moving from softball to football, the Faculty will be involved in a gridiron clash this Friday against the Administration. Are you ready for this? The Faculty line-up will include: The Avenging Angell, Ed "The Snake" James, Stan "The Man" Antoniotti, Don "The Kahuna" Johnson, Quicksilver Phil Silvia, Charles "Haka" Fanning, over the Hill Bill Levin, Killer Kryzanek, Steve "The Leaper" Levine, and the Secret Weapon (probably some World Football League reject.)

Leading the Administrative team will be player-coach Rick Veno. If nothing else they certainly outnumber the faculty. Dr. Veno's squad has an impressive roster, which includes: Dr. Sharples, Dave Wilson, Jim McLaughlin, "Buffalo" Bob Smith, Peter Hartel, Paul Gaines, Ed Meaney, Dave Morwick, Dennis Bicknel, Greg Hall, Floyd Silvia, Tom Walsh, Jim Plotner, Bill Owens, Jim Sheehan, Phil Conroy, Denny Ciganovic, Rick Veno.

Coach Veno will also have on hand his taxi-squad, which includes Martha Jones, Linda Ragosta, Maureen Fitzgerald, Dot Lischick, and Kathy Belleville. My bookie rates the Administration a six point favorite....

On a less serious note, Red Sox Slugger Fred Lynn became the first player since 1961 to lead the league in both batting and slugging percentage (.637)...While rumors are about about trading Lynn, I hope that the Bobsie Twins (owners Leroux and Sullivan) will not be stupid enough to trade the best center fielder in baseball, even though that is expecting quite a bit...How would you like to be a major league manager when you consider that out of the 26 teams, nine managers have been let go since April... Ed Kranepool, the original New York Met, may have played his last game at Shea Stadium and he is disturbed because the Mets let it pass without any recognition. Kranepool, who is playing out his option, was upset as the Mets honored Lou Brock in his last game in New York, and did not honor himself. "If someone had given that much loyalty to me for 17 years I'd treat them better. They don't even know how to retire a person"...Former Providence College and Boston Celtic player Marvin Barnes was recently cut by the San Diego Clippers. It's too bad, he and Bill Walton would have made a very interesting couple...This week's Horatio Alger award goes to Nebraska University running back Craig Johnson. Johnson, a reserve player, got into the game last week against New Mexico State only because a starting back lost his shoe and had to leave the field. Johnson took advantage of the golden opportunity, and scored three touchdowns to lead the Cornhuskers to a 57-0 victory...I'm sure that Pats Coach Ron Erhardt is glad that his team will not be playing on Monday nights anymore... The Patriots are 0-2 on the the nationally televised game, and have a lifetime record of 1-7...After watching the pitiful performance of the Patriots offensive line in the last two games, I wonder, where is Leon Gray when we need him?...

Miguel Aleman says that prior to the advent of television, football south of the border "was about as popular as ice fishing." But no more. Aleman, vice president of Mexico's commercial television, said in a recent interview that "Yanqui futbol" with N.F.L. games lifted directly from U.S. networks is all the rage now. But Mexican aficionados get one concession unavailable to American viewers. They don't have to listen to Howard Cosell. Aleman says that athletes are highly regarded in Mexico, and Cosell's criticisms are considered impolite.

Field Hockey

The Women's Field Hockey Team opened their season last week splitting a pair, under new head coach Mary Lou Thimas. This is her first year as field hockey coach here at BSC and with the amount of talent she has to work with, it looks to be a very successful season! Ms. Thimas also coaches basketball here at Bridgewater, as well as being Director of Women's Athletics.

The girls opened on the road last Tuesday against U. Conn. It was a hard fought game, but BSC ended up on the short end of the stick 2-0. Bridgewater's Karen "Crow" Croteau, a freshman starter for the varsity, scored a goal for the Bears, only to have it called back by the officials! The J.V.'s lost a heartbreaker 1-0, as U. Conn. scored on a penalty stroke in the 2nd half.

On Thursday, the girls traveled to Boston College, and both teams came away victorious! Lisa Vallincourt, a junior, and 3 year starter for Bridgewater, scored the first goal of the game, with Paula Hutch getting the assist. By the end of the game BC wished Vallincourt never showed up, as she scored 2 more goals to finish the day with a "hat trick." Assisting her were Sharon Robertson and Ann "Merle" Merlin. Linda Doherty also scored for the Bears with "Crow" assisting. Bridgewater's defense was devastating as they walked away with a 4-0 victory!

The J.V.'s followed suit with 4 goals of their own, by Chris Ramsey, Diane Demetrias, and 2 by Terri McNeil. BC only managed 3, so the Bears tasted their first victory! Both teams hold a 1-1 record!
